

Technical Compliance Consulting

We remove the uncertainty from your technical compliance process

THE CHALLENGE

Technical requirements are often unclear and subject to ongoing changes. Having the resources to navigate the technical jurisdictional landscape in multiple jurisdictions can be challenging. This delays the go-to-market.

THE SOLUTION

We provide a one-stop-shopping solution:

- Consulting on technical requirements during development.
- Assessment of your product on technical compliance.
- Management of the relationship with the test labs, before go-live.

WHY THE CHEVRON GROUP?

We combine a vast experience in technology with a 100% commitment to compliance, globally. Additionally, we can support you in related areas, such as:

- Regulatory Consulting
- License Applications
- Compliance Audits

OUR APPROACH

- We provide consulting on the technical requirements, which reduces the uncertainty during the development stage.
- We identify the gaps of your platform and games, pointing out the necessary adaptations to comply with the legislation and integrate with regulator systems.
- We explain the certification process and support in the preparation of the necessary documentation, to ensure everything runs smoothly and free up your own resources.
- We do quality assurance of your games and platform during the pre-certification stage to identify any issues, and we manage the relationship with the test labs during the formal certification, thereby reducing turnover times.

CONTACT US

Request a call today to discuss how we can support you in achieving technical compliance.

sander@chevron.group

www.chevron.group